Briefly describe the organization's mission:

introduction of methods to non-surgically sterilize dogs and cats, and to support the distribution and promotion of these products to humanely control cat and dog populations worldwide. ACC&D has held four international symposia to bring together researchers, academics, veterinarians, animal welfare professionals, and other stakeholders in cat and dog fertility control. The fifth symposium is planned for 2013. Based in Portland, Oregon, ACC&D relies on grants from other not-for-profit organizations, private foundations, and individual major donors for its primary support.

ACC&D is guided by a board of ten directors as well as an eleven-member International International Science Advisory & Product Development Committee.

Our small staff relies on key volunteer support from senior leaders, veterinarians, scientists and academics. In 2011, ACC&D expanded both our Board of Directors and Scientific Advisory Council, adding leaders and expanding the expertise guiding our organization.

Several of these volunteers also contribute as the Scientific Advisory Board of the Michelson Prize and Grants program of the Found Animals Foundation which has provided $8 million in grants for toward development of non-surgical a sterilant/s for dogs and cats since 2009.

In 2011, ACC&D grew our Organizational Partners Program to 131 groups from 19 countries and 20 U.S. states. We celebrated the formation of our Council of Stakeholders—a group of leading organizations providing key strategic and networking support as well as key financial support to help ensure ACC&D's sustainability. Council members commit three years of support; income to be granted in future years inflates our revenue as that total gift is booked in the year pledged. Council members now number seven and include: The Adam & Amber Tarshis Foundation, ASPCA, HSUS, Parsemus Foundation, Petco Foundation, PetSmart Charities, and The Regina Bauer Frankenberg Foundation.
